WITHIN a short time, says C. D. Burney, aviation expert and member of the British Parliament, the point of the British Empire will be within 24 hours of London by flying machine.

It is the intention of Britain to draw close together all parts of the empire with an adequate flying fleet, and to do it as quickly as possible.

THE COUNTRY is gradually making up to our flying machine situation, and it NEEDS to wake up.

Secretary Wilbur gives this information: Five hundred airplanes of the navy are ordered. And even the remaining 224 that can fly, more or less, are all out of date.

You can easily imagine the difference between the flying fleet of this nation and that of Japan, which has 17 factories working night and day turning out up to date flying machines, made on the best European models.

OF COURSE, Japan feels friendly toward us and we feel friendly toward Japan. But sometimes situations change. It is not pleasant, next to Secretary Wilbur's statement, to read of one of the postoffice flying machines falling to the ground. The brave pilot, Charles Gilbert, was found dead. We have good, courageous fliers. We ought to supply them with machines that won't risk their lives unnecessarily.

KATHERINE MAYO, writing about the Philippines, supplies information worth while. Self-appointed "Apollon" collect tribute in the name of religion. In one village, refusing to furnish supplies, a family of nine were seized. A deep hole was dug, "the nine prisoners were flung in—grandfather, babies and all. The leader ordered the villagers to shovel back the earth on them, and pack it down soundly."

After this the "Apollon" said to the villagers: "Now we shall have supplies from you. If you do not promptly comply we shall bury more families."

There seems to be some work left for the American public school to do in the Philippines before turning these regions over completely to the natives.

However, native deficiencies do not justify this country in turning the poor creatures over to highly trained American graders.

DO YOU keep chickens? Keep them away from other chickens if you can. Europe has sent here a poultry plague for which there is no known cure. Congress voted $100,000 to fight it. Rigid quarantine will help the situation.

SEPARATE your chickens, and beware how you eat raw vegetables, unless cleaned with the greatest thoroughness, which isn't easy.

Be cautious especially about raw lettuce. The French alone know how to prepare that plant grown in open fields, often with barnyard manure carrying typhoid germs.

JACKSON SEARLES ATTEMPTS TO STAND SUICIDE

Three Efforts Follow Admission He Made Poor Purchase of Securities

Broken by a self-confessed financial fiasco, Caleb S. Jackson, who resigned as treasurer and vice-president of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, attempted suicide in three ways early today.

He slung a stone from a window, then turned on the gas down on the floor of the kitchenette of his apartment, No. 22 Pinckney street, Boston Hill.

There Jackson was found by the police, where it was said he had attempted to take his own life. A former railway official's unsuccessful attempt to take his own life was made shortly after the focus connected with his resignation was made public.

It was announced he had been admitted to the Eastern Mutual Insurance Company, a corporation formed to handle the section's compensation insurance business of the street railway.

NOTE IS FOUND.
According to officials of the railway company, none of its assets were involved, and there was no evidence that the treasurer used the money to benefit himself in any way.

A note addressed to Jackson's sister-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Dwyer, who lives on the floor above, was found near his unconscious form. It read: "Dear Mabel: 'Try to forgive me for all the sorrow and trouble I have brought on you. I do not know how I ever came to ruin myself so, but it is done and I must pay the penalty. You will never know how much I have appreciated your sympathy and goodness. Please notify Alice (sister-in-law) as to the Hotel Chelsea, N. Y., No. 222 West 23rd street. It will be a terrible shock to her. May you think as well of me as I can, God bless you.'"

No mention was made in the note of Jackson's wife, who has been separated from him for some time and is living at Millboro, N. H. Mrs. Jackson, when notified of the attempted suicide by the Boston American, said:

TRAPPED AS HOME BURNS

Ninety-one-Year-Old Resident and Her Nurse Are Aided to Safety by Firemen

Mrs. Elizabeth Stodder, ninety-one years old, was rescued by firemen when flames virtually destroyed her home at No. 16 Power street, Somerville, early today.

Agnes Lynch, a maid employed in the house, also was assisted to the street by firemen.

When firemen arrived the flames had reached the roof of the house. Laddermen John Quinn and Charles Crutcher carried the aged woman to a neighbor's house while Laddermen Arthur Selton assisted Miss Lynch. The damage is estimated at $5,000.

PEDESTRIAN HURT AS AUTO JUMPS CURBSTONE

An unusual accident in Jamaica Plain resulted in the serious injury of Patrick Deane of No. 88 Carolina avenue, West Roxbury. Deane was walking along the street at Centre and Monroe streets, when two machines crashed at the corner, and one of them, driven on the sidewalk, struck and inflicted severe injuries.

The machines were driven by Frank B. Keefe, No. 2 Walbridge street, Allston, and James Johnson of 21 Mount Vernon street, West Roxbury.

BANK BUILDING SWEEPED BY FIRE IN BANGOR

Bangor, Me., Dec. 23.—Several buildings in Bangor's business section were threatened by flames spreading from a fire that broke out in a street drug store. Main and Broadway, shortly after 8 o'clock today.

Two hours after the fire was discovered the flames had worked their way into the Merchants Bank Building and threatened to destroy a number of other buildings in the path of the wind.

Practically all the fire fighting apparatus in the city battled the rapidly spreading flames in near zero temperature.

The fire department was crippled by the absence of Chief LeBarrow and a number of firemen who were enroute while tackling the fire.

Now Is the Time to Show You Are Real Neighbor

THEY are our neighbors. You know, these men and women and children who will not have a Christmas dinner without help from the Christmas Basket Fund.

A little hard luck, somebody's loss of a job, a long spell of sickness, and many a decent family is brought out to want. Put yourself for a moment in the place of the father and mother who must tell the children not to hang up their stockings this year, because Santa Claus isn't coming.

And remember how favored you have been—and yours. What was it Mr. Thomas More said as he passed the wretch being led to execution?

"There, but for the grace of God, goes Thomas More!" We are all neighbors. All brothers, all sons of the same Father.

my husband for several years. I have nothing about his religion from the family. I had been notified of his arrest. I will not come to Boston."

An audit of the books of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, which was started when Jackson voluntarily admitted his guilt to the trustees and resigned, was speeded up today.

From the announcement of the resignation was made yesterday, eight days after it had been accepted, it was stated the audit was practically completed and showed no irregularities.

The company's officers were made to state that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, of which Jackson was also treasurer.

There is a general provision in the state insurance laws in which the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company funds in illegal securities.

A seizure was made in the last session of the Legislature, when the charge was made by Representative Richard J. Crook, of Melrose, that that the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company had been making a huge profit and had made big profits.

The charges were dropped when the trustees had received funds of the company in irregular loans and other conservative investments, and were within their rights.

Jackson's attempt at suicide followed a night of unrest, during which he played the floor of the apartment constantly, shortly before midnight he went to the apartment of his sister-in-law.

"I suppose you have seen it in the papers," he said.

"Yes," she replied.

"Well, don't pay any attention to the headlines. It's been going all night," said Jackson. He then returned to his apartment and resumed his daily routine, up and down, back and forth until about four a. m. his decision was made.

Once in the bedroom, Jackson rolled up his sleeves after removing the coat, and taking an off-white towel, placed it over his head and arms, and then attempted to climb to the window sill and throw himself to the street, jumping from the stairs four feet later to the police.

"To want to accomplish this, I thought, he dropped back to the fourth floor. The right of his wounds apparently drove Jackson, during his fall, a madman through the apartment, scattering chairs and tables and crashing into the walls.

turned over to Mrs. Dreiser, and a thorough search of the apartment was made. Sergeant Harry T. Dwyer and Patrolman Gerard Shaw, of the 1st Precinct, were called to the scene. Nothing was found that would throw any more light on the case.

BREAKS SILENCE.

Later news of the act of the former treasurer led one of the officials of the street railway company to break the silence which has prevailed in the quarters since Jackson's resignation.

SPRAGUE OUT ATTEMPT TO OWN AFFAIRS

Isaac Sprague declared today his instant resignation as trustee of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company and nothing whatever to do with the difficulties of Treasurer Caleb S. Jackson.

"My resignation," he stated, "was purely a personal business matter with me. I resigned because of my own personal business. Mr. Jackson's resignation was a very valuable thing, and the news of his resignation was a surprise to me."

"I am not in any way affected by Mr. Jackson's resignation. It was a personal matter, and I am not in any way affected by it."

Pastor's Levy Causes Flock to Ask His Resignation

New London, Conn., Dec. 23.—Two of the charges against the Rev. John C. Stoddard, who has been asked to resign as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Putnam, Conn., are that he referred too often to his wife when preaching, and that he greeted members of his flock as "Old Sam" when he met them on the street. Other charges were:

"That he did not preach the Gospel."

"That he did not study his sermon."

JACKSON SUE FOR DIVORCE RECENTLY

Caleb S. Jackson, who attempted suicide today following his resignation from two companies in which he was treasurer, has been estranged from his wife since 1920, according to Perry & Saunders, Boston attorneys who are counsel for the wife.

They said the first legal case came last April, when Mrs. Iola E. Jackson left her husband permanently and took up her residence in Hingham, N. H.

Last September Jackson instituted divorce proceedings on the technical charge of desertion, the wife entering an appearance only to the extent of asking alimony. The case is pending in the Superior court.

Irreconcilability was given as the cause of the estrangement. Mrs. Jackson being an outdoor woman fond of hunting and fishing, while her husband had no interest in life outside of his business.

According to Mrs. Jackson's counsel, she left her husband last April in order that she might enjoy the trout fishing in New Hampshire. She has taken up her permanent residence in Hingham, they said.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES SOUGHT AFTER CRASH

Brookline Fire Chief Hurt Trying to Avoid Collision With Auto

Officials of the Brookline fire department today are discussing automobile legislation to prevent accidents from crowding or cutting in front of the town apparatus responding to fire alarms.

One accident to a fire department machine and the narrow escape of two other pieces has caused this agitation.

Deputy Chief Francis J. Hayes was rear decked when he was obliged to drive his car into a tight spot to avoid hitting an automobile that cut in front of his machine.

The deputy chief was driving along Harvard street, near Linden, responding to an alarm, when the accident occurred. The pole was broken off near the base and fell across the hood of the deputy chief's car.

Chief Edwin H. Allen's machine came near crashing into the curb when he was forced to swerve sharply to avoid hitting a car that turned directly in his path, on Harvard street.

Confusion H. was forced to turn out of the way of a machine and came within a few inches of going into an excavation in the street.

None of the fires to which the machines were responding were serious.

AL SINS OF SOVIET LAID TO TROTSKY

Friends and Foes Turn on War Chief, Now Broken in Health

Moscow, Dec. 23.—Although Trotsky is out of the political arena and far removed from the party strife of Moscow, attacks upon him both from within and without the "muskrat party" continue unabatingly.

Even in American life has had to face such a merciless fire of censure and condemnation as has been directed against the Soviet war chief. All the sins and shortcomings and failures of the Bolshevik regime have been visited upon his head.

Throughout the Russian Revolution the attacks are directed toward Trotsky's personal characteristics and his dissensions with the Communist party during the last seven years. Various Bolshevik leaders have made known that Trotsky rendered his resignation many times—whenever the central committee of the party attempted to introduce in any branch of its activities.

While it is not true that he has resigned or has been dropped or expelled, Trotsky may be considered as one of the arena of political activity.

WHISKEY TO BE CORNERED BY BIG TRUST

British Distillers Combine to Control Output; Green Liquor for America

By ROBERT J. PREW.
London, Dec. 23 (Universal Cable).—The world's whiskey supply is about to be cornered by one large combine with a capitalization of $250,000,000.

The Dwyer and Buchanan merge of which are now discussing with other big distilleries the establishment of a liquor trust. The well known concern, Dwyer's, was taken in last week and by the time negotiations are completed it is expected that there will not be a single large distiller remaining outside the combine.

U. S. PROHIBITION BLAMED.
Prohibition in the United States is largely responsible for this development. Actually, British home consumers are threatened with a famine in whiskey on account of the vast supplies which are sent to countries and islands near America.

It has been a custom of Dwyer's to keep whiskey for three years before placing it on the home market in order that it might mature properly, but there has been no restriction since prohibition has been in force in America to displace "new" whiskey for consumption by Americans.

PRICE TO REMAIN SAME.
All the other whiskey has been banned severely by making distillers and a corner has been virtually established. In present conditions, the amount of whiskey produced in the past three years and which will be in stock, is very low and the distillers are convinced of the necessity of maintaining a supply of drinkable spirit for Britain.

That there is to be any attempt to compete for the purpose of feeding the world is much doubted because the availability of every other kind of alcoholic beverage tends to check drinking in whiskey.

Pastor Resigns and Takes Position as Janitor

Middleton, N. J., Dec. 23 (By Universal Service).—The Rev. George Wright, formerly pastor of the Methodist Church at Bloomington, today was appointed janitor of the Union School at that place.

Mr. Wright resigned the church pastorate some time ago, but has continued to live in Bloomington. He has been taken on trial for one month as janitor.

And today he still believes there are many kind hearts left in the world, for he will probably be freed. No sooner had the story of his arrest and the reason for it appeared in the newspapers than scores of business men appeared in the court officials, begging to be allowed to make restitution of the money and pay any charges that might accrue in the case.

BANKER KAHN'S SON BEGINS AT BOTTOM

Works in Insurance Office to Avoid Coddling in Father's Firm

New York, Dec. 23.—Gilbert Kahn, son of Otto H. Kahn, financier and patron of the arts, has started work as a clerk with the Equitable Trust Company, it was learned today. He was recently graduated from college. His desire to avoid being "coddled" led him to accept a position outside of the firm of Kahn, Loeb & Co., in which his father is a partner, it is said.

"King of Swat" Fells Foot-Thick Pine as "Babe" Dorothy Looks on

Babe is the "big hero" of course—Babe Ruth—and the baby is the little Ruth, whose first name is Dorothy.

Out in Sudbury, where there is plenty of acreage and atmosphere for even the Babe to wave an axe, the big master and his little daughter went into the woods to play a huge Christmas tree.

Little Ruth picked out one that measured nearly a foot across the butt and the Babe said he reckoned that was big enough, for he could whittle it down in the shape of a four-base bludgeon, when the holidays were over.

Then he whittled the axe on his horny thumb a few times and spat on the edge to temper it, after which he waved the weapon to select for a few times—and the tree crashed down plump into the Babe's hands for an easy cut.

Little Ruth will have to have a ladder to climb Babe Ruth's tree, but then Christmas comes true these days, anyway.

Tomorrow Ruth will go to Boston to superintend the distribution of shoes to 3,000 children from the transient districts of the city by the Volunteers of America.

The "Babe" will arrive from his Sudbury farm at the Volunteer headquarters, No. 35 Howard street, at 1:30 on Wednesday afternoon.

Mayor and Mrs. Curley will also be present and assist in outfitting the needy youngsters with new shoes.

LYNN POLICE ARREST 3 ON LIQUOR CHARGES

The Lynn liquor squad raided Edward court at No. 17, they claim to have seized seventeen gallons of beer, and arrested Margaretta Abernethy on charges of illegal sale.

At No. 23, they say they seized fifteen quarts of wine and five of whiskey, and arrested Dominica De Benedetto, and his wife, Marie De Benedetto, on the same charges plus keeping and exposing liquor for sale.

In the centre of the town, police arrested Fred Reynolds of No. 29 Johnson street, on the charge of bootlegging.

HIGHT'S MIND 'LIKE THAT OF BOY OF TEN'

Told Alienist He Saw Bright Light When He Was Converted

Mount Vernon, Ill., Dec. 22.—The trial of Lawrence M. Hight, dropped out of the case, and Mrs. Hight, who are charged with poisoning Mrs. Anna Hight and her son, was today.

Dr. Frank P. Ansel, testified that Hight was of sound mind when examined last October 24. Dr. C. H. Anderson, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane, testified Hight had the mentality of a ten-year-old boy.

"What about a bright light Hight saw when converted?" Dr. P. Ansel asked.

"The old man," the witness replied, "that he had a sudden feeling of comfort and joy accompanied by an effluence of brightness."

"Hight's reputed belief that he had seen deceased relatives near his bed was merely an apparition," Dr. P. Ansel added. "There are frequently hallucinations from the dream state."

Dr. Frank P. Ansel, Louisville, testified that Hight was of sound mind when examined last October 24. Dr. C. H. Anderson, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane, testified Hight had the mentality of a ten-year-old boy.

Donors of Hight's former neighbors testified that Hight was sane when he preached in Tex. last Summer.

MR. ZERO SEEKS FIVE CHURCHES FOR JOBLESS

New York, Dec. 22.—Believing that untaught churches should be kept in continuous use the man who calls himself "Mr. Zero" laid his plans today to move five more churches in which to house unemployed men.

Following his invasion of the Central Memorial Congregational Church, he made arrangements today to retain the church, in which he will house the jobless men for the rest of the winter.

MR. ZERO, whose correct name is Eugene, laid out his plan today that among other churches he will attempt to take Sunday in St. Mark's in the Boulevard, where the Rev. William Hamilton, cleric, holds his fantastic "demon and devil services."

GERMAN MOVE TO TRUST ALLIES FROM COLOGNE

British Pressure Being Brought to Continue
Occupation of City

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND,
Berlin, Dec. 22 (Universal Cable)—Germany has indirectly invited the Allies to start initiating negotiations for some compromise on the Allied evacuation of Cologne.

That is the real meaning of the move of the German Ambassadors at London, Paris, Brussels and Rome.

Evacuation itself is already even technically impossible by that date, but the German government is anxious to save its face before its own people.

Society's Smart Polo Set to Play in Big Matches on North Shore

By BETTY ALDEN

It took as though the skillful art of winning the match is fast becoming one of the North Shore's leading sports.

Some among the thundering roar of the polo game will be heard on the coast next year.

Now comes the word that will have a large part of its own on which to train for months for this thrilling sport.

The "Smart" set on the shore is at Beverly Farms and the land which Mr. Shaw has purchased for his polo field is in Scituate street, Beverly.

MR. AND MRS. SHAW generally spend the winter months at Beverly Farms. Mr. Shaw is a member of the Polo Association.

His wife was formerly Miss Nancy Mitchell, whose brother John Mitchell owned the polo field at Beverly Farms.

Since their marriage the young people have divided their time between the shore and the city.

WIFE AT LOSS ON LAWSON'S 'MEMORY'

Meets, but Hardly Grets
Former Boston Dry Agent
at the Dock

New York, Dec. 22 (Universal)—John Lawson, former publisher agent, who has been missing two years, was returned to America Sunday as a prisoner on the Levantine, explained the long absence to his wife.

"I have nothing to say," Lawson repeated this week and even to his wife. She was asked by a reporter.

"You are glad to see your husband after two years absence, aren't you?"

She tossed her head and answered: "I have nothing to say—now."

Lawson and two friends went into the city Sunday night and were seen leaving two years ago and never returned. It was feared they had been lost.

Recently Lawson's father saw in a paper that John Lawson, son of the Levantine, had been named when a ship on the pier.

They then went to the pier and found Lawson. He was seen leaving two years ago and never returned.

From the Diary of the Last-Minute Shopper

Friday, December 19
7:45 P.M.

Sitting down in easy-chair with evening paper, I remembered sharply that he has got to buy most of his presents for Christmas. Gots over advertisements carefully. Doesn't seem to find anything that will exactly fill the bill.

Saturday, December 20
8:00 A.M.

Wife asks if he has thought of anything for Aunt Emma. "Aunt Emma?" Oh, yes, Christmas is almost here, at that. Will think it over. Must get going on other presents, too. Well, plenty of time.

Sunday, December 21
Discusses violently with wife the time of buying at the last minute.

"Next year it will be different. Eh, what?"

Monday, December 22
10:30 P.M.

Tells wife he has been so busy he just couldn't get away to shop. Will surely do everything tomorrow. Doesn't mind the crowds.

"Oh, no, not at all!"

Tuesday, December 23
Time unknown

Breaks crystal of watch in the crowd. The feverish panic of "what shall I buy?" grows. Decides to drop in at the Edison Shop.

Later emerges triumphant.

There is something electrical for almost everyone this Christmas.

FUNKKE, HERMIT IS SENT TO AN ASYLUM

Harvard Scientist Who Avoided
Water and Battled for Home Is Insane

Frank Funkke, scientist, Harvard University, was committed today to Worcester State Hospital. For months Funkke carried himself in his home in Winthrop and defied the efforts of constables employed by the owner of the building to evict him.

He was finally ousted about three weeks ago after a rough and tumble battle, and committed to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation.

UNWASHED TEN YEARS.

Police Captain Eugene A. Carter of Somerville made the application for commitment of Funkke from the Psychopathic Hospital to the Worcester State Hospital on the report of Dr. Charles G. Dewey and Dr. John H. Prescott. The application was made to Judge Malcolm E. Sturtevant of the Somerville district court, who signed the commitment papers, and Constable Charles M. Austin of Somerville conveyed him from the hospital to Worcester.

Hospital authorities, the Somerville police said, stated that Funkke had not had a bath for ten years until he entered that institution.

OVERCOME BY STRATEGY.

Funkke ended all his life in the house from which he was evicted. The house stood at No. 726 Beacon street until July 2 last, when it was moved on rollers along the corner on Euclid street, and then was numbered No. 46 Euclid street. Attempts to evict Funkke failed until Constable William D. Gussage of Euclid street, West Somerville, with three assistants dressed as carpenters, gained entrance to the house and overpowered Funkke.

CHILD KILLED BY CAR
AFTER VISIT TO SANTA

New Haven, Dec. 22.—Just after he had paid a visit to Santa Claus in one of the stores here, a young boy, shopping trip with his mother, Margaret Spotted, died from the side of his car, as they were about to enter a busy thoroughfare and was instantly killed by a passing trolley car. She was three and one-half years old.

SUSPENSION SPAN TO LINK CITY PROPER AND EAST BOSTON

Bill for proposed improvement has just been introduced in the Legislature. It is declared that the plan would solve part of Boston's pressing traffic problems.

Take Payroll, Then Bid Victims 'Merry Christmas'

New York, Dec. 22.—In the presence of twenty men and five women employees, sitting in a hall, three armed men paid out $10,000 in paychecks to a group of men and women who were being held in an automobile with them. As they left the car, they were told to go home and tell their families and friends that they were all 'Merry Christmas.'

FIGHT AGAINST PHONE
RATES IS GROWING

Petitions from virtually every city and town in the state have been filed with the Department of Public Utilities, notifying that body that these communities wish to join Boston in its fight against higher telephone rates.

THREE SOCIETY LEADERS DEFY BLACKMAILERS

By JOHN K. WINKLER
New York, Dec. 22.—New York police are investigating blackmail plots against three of New York's wealthiest and most prominent society leaders, two of them women.

Grandmothers Dress Too Gaily, Says College Head

President Mary Woolley of St. Hilda's College, the "Piousfathers' Night" speaker before the Boston Congregational Club, Ford Hall, discussed "Our Grandmothers and their Granddaughters." President Woolley said the grandmothers of the present generation were subject to criticism because of their dress, pointing out that in Connecticut the courts summoned young women before them on charges of dressing too lavishly, while newspapers lampooned that the women wore their skirts short to show their fancy shoes with colored heels and their colorful stockings.

BLACK EYE FOR U. S. SENATOR? WHO? HOW?

Washington, Dec. 22.—Who will shed the Senator's eye—and which Senator's eye?
That's the question which puzzled Capitol gossip today, as a result of the publication in a Washington newspaper of an account of a street fight between an Irish husband and a member of the Upper House. The story said that the lawmaker had been badly battered, his right eye swelled and his nose broken, and he had been taken to the Emergency Hospital for treatment.

CLAIMS BRIDGE PLAN SOLVES TRAFFIC

$14,000,000 East Boston Span
Would Relieve Jam, Says
Author of the Bill

Many advantages to Boston traffic are claimed by the bill for a $14,000,000 suspension bridge from Boston proper to East Boston. Among them are:

1. Direct access to the East Boston district with its excellent housing, industrial and commercial facilities but a mile from the heart of the city proper.
2. A cut of about 30 minutes in the running time from Boston to points on the North Shore.
3. Unification of the entire metropolitan district and the consolidation of Suffolk County.
4. Creation of a ferrying deficit of $500,000 annually.

Airship to Broadcast Christmas Carol Tomorrow Night

Lakehurst, N. J., Dec. 22.—The dirigible Los Angeles and a picked band will broadcast a Christmas carol from the skies on Christmas Eve, when the huge silver ship will hover above New York city long enough for the residents of "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

By Sirro was received by Philip Rhinelanders' secretary, France Vols, on December 18, and was in the hands of the police last day.

It demanded that $25,000 be turned over to the writer. The demand was backed by threats of personal violence and of "disasters about your person."

The blackmailers wrote: "Send a small boy in a gray cap decorated with a red ribbon. He must carry an umbrella and wear white ribbons and must have the sum demanded in newspaper packets which he will deposit against the south wall of the Aquarium at 10 o'clock, December 21."

The note was signed "Robert Harley."

On the designated evening only "Robert Harley" was missing at the Aquarium. The affair was the subject of much talk and revived the next day when a letter, in the same handwriting, was received by Mrs. Vanderbilt.

This time the blackmailers signed "Elmer Harnburg, Head Baltimore." Again he demanded the ribbon crosses for the messenger boy. This time he demanded $25,000. He made the Aquarium last night.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Who will shed the Senator's eye—and which Senator's eye?
That's the question which puzzled Capitol gossip today, as a result of the publication in a Washington newspaper of an account of a street fight between an Irish husband and a member of the Upper House. The story said that the lawmaker had been badly battered, his right eye swelled and his nose broken, and he had been taken to the Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Accordingly, many members of the Senate who had not read the article were embarrassed as well as mystified today when they were admitted to the close scrutiny wherever they appeared.

So far no Senator has appeared at the capital with a black eye, but the story has been repeated in the newspapers and the public is waiting for the Senator to appear.

The tale had it that there had been a battle between the husband (unnamed) and the Senator—both of them. It took place, the story ran, on Sixth street, a few blocks from the White House, on Thursday or Friday night. From all accounts the husband scored both the referee and the newspaper.

Incidentally, hospital officials said today that the Senator had no trouble at all.

WEIRD BIRD OF SEVEN LETTERS WAS SPARROW

Cross-Word Fans Mob Carnegie Museum, Seek Monster of Geological Fame

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 22 (Universal)—Wildered, a mob of cross-word fans descended on the Carnegie Museum, invaded the department where birds and animals of the perian and other geological age are kept, eager in their desire to learn what bird with seven letters its name belonged to the "tail order of Eleutherodactyl Oomies. As a result the museum today barred cross-word puzzle fans.

The first cross worder dashed to the officials and asked: "I want to get some information on the Eleutherodactyl—the prehistoric bird that Conan Doyle wrote a story about several years ago."

OFFICIAL SHOWS PUZZLE.

"Certainly," replied the official, "right this way."

With a mob following, the official led the inquirer to a mounted replica of an immense birdlike reptile with a long neck and legs, but without tail. Its parrot and dried skin had a lustrous appearance.

With a shout the cross-worder demanded to know what "tail" belonged to the same family whose name could be spelled out in seven letters.

"None," replied the museum official, "erupt."

"Says so here," demanded a more young woman fan. "Look for yourself."

PROVED TO BE SPARROW.

Quietly taking the puzzle, the official said:

"A word of seven letters meaning a bird of the suborder of Eleutherodactyl Oomies."

At first he frowned, then a smile grew on his face as he said:

"None. You are in the wrong department. Go in among the birds. What you are looking for is a sparrow."

And so it was—the bird of seven letters of the suborder of the Eleutherodactyl Oomies.

The remainder of the Mass will be for the adults. There will be a special Mass for the children of Holy Name School. The remainder of the Mass will be for the adults.

From certain quarters within the college ranks a movement is afoot to curb the forward pass in football. The gentlemen behind this movement will carry their arguments to New York this week when the rules committee meets to discuss the many proposed changes in the rules and from all indications a spirited debate is in the offing.

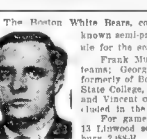

He said he was not a rational authority on college sports speak against the "heaven" in the present dress. Walter Camp, called the "Father of American" football, did not discuss the pass when he was recently interviewed by a college coach on rule change. He seemed mostly concerned about making the kickoff from the forty-yard line.

Knuke Rochne, coach of the great Notre Dame team, said the rules are almost as they stand. There you have two of the biggest men in football, Brown from Coast to Coast.

If any action is taken to tone down the forward to such an extent that injury will be done to its spectacular features, football will be robbed of one of its most thrilling plays. It would be like taking the home run away from baseball or the knockout from ring-

B. C. OVERLOOKED

In awarding the 1924 college championships for 1924 several appearances were made by the College of Arts and Sciences. That title was awarded to Yale in spite of the fact that the latter outfit refused to play the Maroon and Gold. Chalmers were awarded a trophy to represent Princeton, but no answer was forthcoming from these two colleges either. The fact, B. C. was considered a fair play, and the Maroon and Golds dared to meet them all season. McGill and Toronto, two Canadian teams, and our own West Point, were the only ones to play this year for so far but three collections have been arranged for the Newton team, against Boston University, Toronto and West Point.

Is Sully Monaghanery a man of destiny? Is he singled out to some day become world's heavyweight champion?

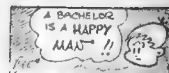

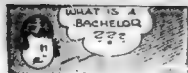

Several times in the past week questions like these have been put to the writer, and we are free to admit that it has set us thinking.

RIVAL PUNCHERS FETTERED

Monterey has been in Boston since Sunday. He thrilled a large crowd which saw him in his final workout at Riley & Hayes Gym. The new heavyweight sensation, who recently knocked out Fritz Singson in an impressive, but painful condition. He is punishing with terrific power, while he moves around the ring with amazing speed.

Some heavy workers, such as "Red" Ryan, have been forced to leave the stage after just a few rounds. Many are also likely to get up the greatest round of the night. The fight will be a real one. Many will be in the ring. Many will be in the ring.

and leave him open for the economic crackout.

Most recently, the Maldives, one of the two leading economies in the heavily-weighted eleven Montenegro has engaged in trade with the United States, a country it has been on the side of for decades. But, Maldives was one of the few group who was sure to last longer than the "The New Market Economy" will

TEXAS HAS GREAT FOOTBALL

Montgomery's cheerleaders really put some pep into the game. They were in the driver's seat with a full scoring effort and in the possession of a really beautiful football. He is a good football player, having mastered the complex stuff while playing in the line for Texas College. He kept the talk about the nucleus of football from the gridiron game requires and football music on.

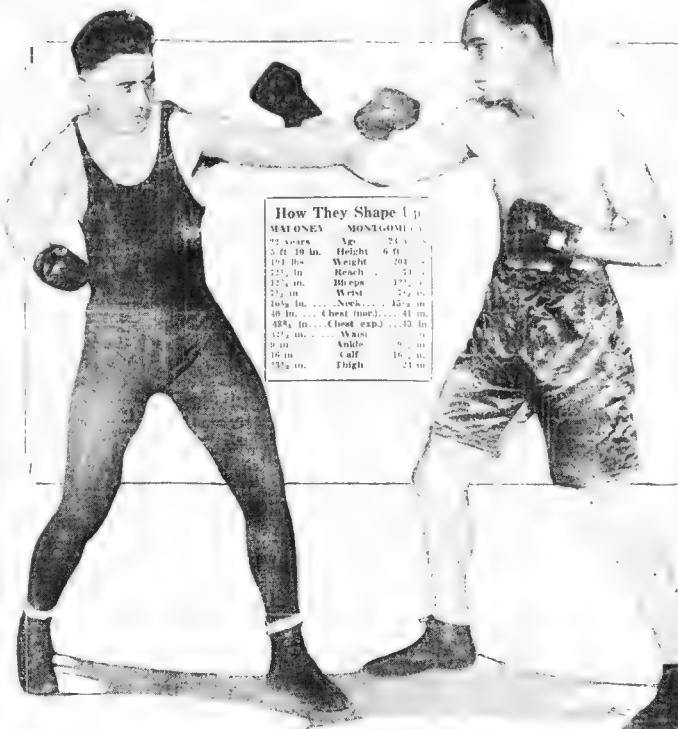

Maloney can sock every bit as hard as Montgomery. Further more, he does not swing as wildly as the Texan. The South Boston youth hits hard and short in the early stages of an encounter. After he has his opponent weak, he increases the length of his drive. This is the same system of attack
